It's bitterly cold outside the synagogue and inside Rabbi Bloom is getting fed up with the constant coughing that's disturbing his sermon.

So after the service ends, he goes over to old Hyman the caretaker and tells him to have a large bowl of cough drops ready in the synagogue for his next sermon and to give one cough drop to any member who begins coughing.

So next Saturday, during the rabbi's sermon and following orders, every time a member coughs, Hyman walks over and hands out a cough drop.

Rabbi Bloom watches this out of the corner of his eye and notices that each time Hyman does this, the member immediately gets up and walks out of the synagogue.

At the end of the service, half the members are gone, so Rabbi Bloom goes over to Hyman and asks, "Hyman, so what did you say to the members that made them leave the synagogue?"

Hyman replies, "So vat did I say? All that I said wuz, 'The Rabbi said for cough'."

The Jewish Mother's Dream For Her Princess

It's really lovely, but my mother wants me to marry a doctor.

Ethel, an 80 year old grandmother, is going on her first cruise, courtesy of her children and grandchildren.

As she boards the ship, Ethel shows her ticket to the purser.

He looks at it and says, "Oh, I see you have U.D." "U.D.? Voss is U.D.?" asks Ethel.

"U.D. is Upper Deck," replies the purser.

Ethel goes to the upper deck and when she shows her ticket to the purser there, he says, "I see that in addition to U.D., you also have O.C."

"O.C.? Voss is O.C.?" asks Ethel.

"O.C. is Outside Cabin," replies the purser.

Ethel is delighted. She goes down the corridor and when she shows her ticket to the cabin boy, he says, "Oh, I see that you also have B.I.B."

"B.I.B.? Voss is B.I.B.?" asks Ethel.

"B.I.B. is Breakfast In Bed," replies the cabin boy.

"Oy yoy yoy," says Ethel, "mine children and grandchildren are wonderful."

Next morning, bright and early, two waiters enter Ethel's room with trays of food for her breakfast in bed. She wakes up with a start, looks at them and says, "F.U.C.K."

Shocked, one of them asks, "F.U.C.K.? What do you mean F.U.C.K.?"

"F.U.C.K. is Foist U Could Knock," replies Ethel.

Sarah is on a dinner date.

When she gets to the Golders Green restaurant, she is shown to her table, her date has not yet arrived, so she puts down her handbag and waits.

If they're not your relatives, then the cows must have come home!

After 10 minutes he still hasn't arrived so she decides to tidy herself up to make sure that she looks perfect for him.

She bends down and starts rummaging through her handbag, looking for her mirror.

Unfortunately, as she is bending down, she accidentally lets go a loud bobby burp just as a waiter is walking by.

Sarah immediately sits up straight.

She's embarrassed and red faced and sure that everyone in the restaurant heard her 'misdemeanour' so she quickly turns to the waiter and shouts, "Stop that."

The waiter looks at her and keeping a straight face says, "Of course, madam, which way was it headed?"

Sidney goes to Doctor Myers for a check-up and returns home with a thermometer.

His wife Miriam asks him, "So what's with the thermometer, darling?"

"Doctor Myers says I must put it in my rectum, but I don't know what he means," he replies.

"Well I don't know either," says Miriam, "so call him and ask."

"Isn't it a bit late to call the doctor?" asks Sidney.

"But you've no choice," says Miriam. So Sidney calls the doctor.

When he puts the phone down, Miriam asks, "So what did he say?"

"The doctor told me to put it in my anus," replies Sidney.

They are now both confused as to what an anus is.

"So call him again," says Miriam.

"But it's very late already," says Sidney, "I'm sure he's going to be mad."

"Maybe, but please call him and ask him," insists Miriam.

So very reluctantly Sidney calls Doctor Myers yet again and after a very brief conversation puts down the phone.

"So what did he say this time?" asks Miriam.

"See, I told you he'd be mad," replies Sidney, "he shouted at me and told me to shove it up my ass."

As part of his growing up process, Isaac and Sarah take their 6 year old son Aaron to a nude beach.

As they take a walk along the sands, Aaron notices that many of the women have boobs bigger than his mum's, so he runs back to ask her why.

"The bigger they are, Aaron, the sillier the lady is," explains Sarah.

Aaron is pleased with her answer and goes away to play.

But five minutes later he returns to tell Sarah that many of the men have larger things than his dad has.

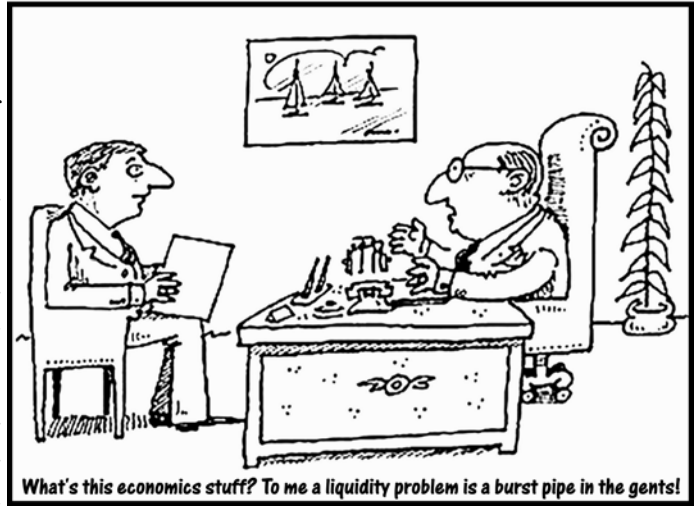

"The bigger they are, Aaron, the dumber the man is," explains Sarah.

He is again very pleased with her answer and goes back to play.

Five minutes later, Aaron is back again and tells Sarah, "Mum, dad is talking to the silliest lady on the beach and the longer he talks to her, the dumber he gets."

Isaac falls asleep on a beach for several hours and gets sunburned.

His legs are the worst and they are already starting to blister. In agony, Isaac goes to the local hospital and is immediately admitted after being diagnosed with 2nd degree burns.

Dr Cohen tells the nurse, "This man needs continuous intravenous feeding with saline and electrolytes, a sedative, and a Viagra pill every four hours."

The nurse is astonished by this and says, "Dr Cohen, what good will Viagra do him?"

"It'll keep the sheets off his legs," replies Dr Cohen.

Issy is driving his wife Ruth mad because whenever he goes to the toilet he leaves little tell-tale 'drops' on the toilet seat.

Ruth tries everything, from asking him nicely, to threatening to divorce him, but nothing works.

The tell-tale drops continue to appear and all Issy can say is, "I'm sorry, but mine eyesight is not as good as it used to be."

As a last resort, Ruth takes Issy to their local optician.

After testing him, the optician says, "Your eyesight is really quite bad and I'm surprised you didn't come to me earlier. I'll make you a pair of strong prescription bi-focal glasses and then you'll see the difference they make. I'll have them ready for you in a few days time."

Issy picks them up later that week and decides to wear them straight away.

When Issy next goes to the toilet, Ruth waits outside to check that his 'problem' has been resolved.

But to her horror, when he comes out, he's got a big wet patch on the front of his trousers.

"Oh Issy," she shouts at him, "Now what's happened?"

"I went to the toilet," says Issy, "and started to do what I had to do."

"Then I looked down and what I saw was so big that I was sure it wasn't mine, so I put it back and zipped up my trousers."

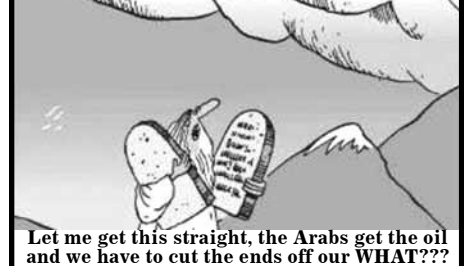

An orthodox Jew is standing near his hotel's reception desk on the Sabbath day.

He's all dressed up in his special Sabbath clothes, when an utterly, drop dead gorgeous blonde El Al air hostess checks in.

As she starts to walk towards the lifts, she sees the finely dressed Jew and stops dead in her tracks.

She walks quickly over to him and with a big friendly smile says, "Hello, I have a confession to make to you," she says.

"Really, what kind of fantasy?" he asks.

"I have a sexual fantasy", she says, "I've always wanted to be with a chassidic man," she says. "I want to run my hands over his beard, twirl his hair, take off his clothes, squeeze his body, and cradle his manhood. In fact I want sex right now."

I have a room upstairs, so will you join me right now for half an hour of excitement?"

He looks at her thoughtfully and replies, "Vemen barestu? What's in it for me?"
